

National Pharmacies Christmas Pageant Float Design Competition 2021

About

The National Pharmacies Christmas Pageant are proud to announce the 2021 Float Design competition in partnership with the South Australian Living Artists (SALA) Festival.

The competition is open to all South Australian artists in design, drawing, painting or sculpting. The winning float design will be brought to life to appear in the 2021 National Pharmacies Christmas Pageant.

Although the competition is open to all artists in South Australia, Pageant Event Director Brian Gilbertson said that aligning with an independent arts organisation like SALA will directly connect the artistry of the Pageant with a well-known and respected platform for artists and creatives.

“The challenge of designing the float and the characters that bring it to life requires the same process as designing for a stage production. The additional challenge is to produce that design for a moving stage in a street setting,” says Mr Gilbertson.

This is a rare opportunity for an artist to immerse themselves in the creativity of the Pageant. Their delivery of the brief will need to take into account both the design and its integration into the Pageant as a whole where it will be part of approximately 170 theatrical moving sets.

This is an opportunity to be a part of a commercial project with a broad range of touch-points, from designing a float to be towed or self-motorised, including riding positions (characters on stage children or adults) and what those characters will be, either on or surrounding the float.

Entries open 7 October 2020 and closes on 30 November 2020. The winners will be announced in December 2020.

Each entry will be viewed by a panel of judges appointed by the Pageant’s creative director.

Prize

Thanks to National Pharmacies, the winning entry will receive $2,000 cash and have their design constructed in the 2021 National Pharmacies Christmas Pageant.
